About the Author

A grandmother who has been making up stories for her children and grandchildren forever, MA Senft is a fresh new author with fantasy and science fiction stories ready to spill out onto the page. Her newest book, Shadows of December was a labor of love with every character a nod to her children and grandchildren in a tale she has been telling and retelling in various forms as a bedtime story since her grandchildren were quite small. She was inspired to put the tale into print as a lasting memoir for her family by her oldest grandchild and namesake for her main character, Jay.

Shadows of December

Illusions of Time

Jay, a 14-year-old boy living in the small sleepy town of Lake Itasca, Minnesota finds himself face-to-face with the fate of the earth when an angel arrives and takes him on a journey through time and space to a future he never could have imagined, upending his self-absorbed devious life.

Based on real science questions of today, such as global warming, gene splicing, new ways of finding power and the politics that surround all of them. Jay is forced to reevaluate what is important as the book illustrates the devastating ramifications our decisions can have on the future of life, as we know it on earth through the fantasy of time and dimensional travel.

Selling Points

- Engrossing and entertaining read with current global themes and significance
- Ideal for both adolescents and adults
- Based on real science questions of today

Endorsements

I enjoyed reading Shadows of December. I liked the moral message it brings to the reader. The decisions we make do affect others in the present and future.

~ Anna J. | Louisville, Kentucky

A real page turner. I couldn't wait to see what happened next!
